

MARCH 2014 CHICAGO WHEAT

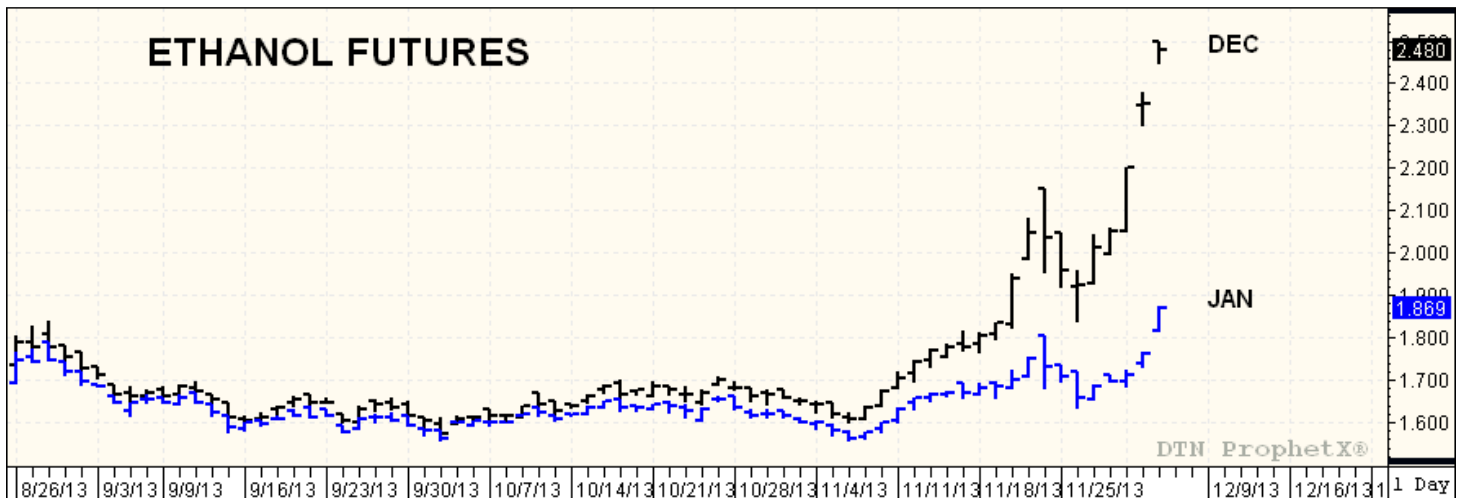

Wheat futures posted losses for the day after Stats Canada released a larger than expected increase in their 2013 wheat crop. The latest estimate was 37.53 MMT, compared to the October estimate of 33 MMT and the average trade estimate for the report of 33.8. Minneapolis wheat felt the brunt of the pressure, falling 12 cents for the day. World demand for wheat remains active with both Algeria and Tunisia booking world wheat in their most recent tenders. Estimates for tomorrow's weekly export sales range from 450-550,000 MT. Look for a mixed/weaker overnight price trade on followthru type selling.
