

SEP 2013 WHEATS

Wheat futures closed mixed after failing to hold mid-session gains. Chicago posted its first higher close in 9 trading sessions. Yield reports remain largely better than expected HRW wheat region. Wet conditions remain an issue in the SRW wheat region, but yield reports are good. Egypt bought 180,000 MT of Romanian and Ukrainian wheat. Tunisia bought 100,000 MT of opt origin wheat. Charts trends remain down, but oversold conditions and harvest surpassing the mid-way point may raise the odds that a short covering event is forthcoming. Would look for a mixed overnight trade, with today's highs being first significant resistance. Trade closes at noon tomorrow.
